TEUTON ALLIANCE STATES PLATFORM OF ORGANIZATION

Prohibition Movement Is Inferentially Condemned; Pro-British Tendency of Press Is Deplored.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
San Francisco, Aug. 3.—The protection of personal liberties; the endorsement of national and state employment bureaus; a rural credit system; and aid by German-Americans for Germans in Canada who have suffered in a business war through the war; and condemnation of alleged pro-British tendencies on the part of some of the American press, with suggestions for its rectification, occupied the attention of the German-American alliance in its eighth biennial convention here.

There was no reference to the subject of national-wide prohibition beyond the adoption of a resolution condemning the enactment of numerous laws affecting personal liberty in practically every state of the union, was, officers of the convention said, intended to be broad enough to embrace that question along with others. However, a resolution more specifically expressing opposition to national-wide prohibition will be before the convention tomorrow, according to some of the officers.

After pronouncing personal liberty as a fundamental doctrine of German-American idealism, the resolution declares, "a condition, as in some states, where one law virtually counteracts, overlaps, or nullifies another," is condemned.

Uninformed and unconstitutional legislation is condemned and the resolution continues: "In order to successfully combat such legislation, it will be incumbent upon every state organization to make full report in every case where laws relating to personal liberty are proposed or enacted to the secretary of the national alliance, so that that body will be in a position to actively cooperate to the end that personal rights of the individual and his protection from harmful and unreasonable legislation may be secured."

A majority of the delegates who spoke on the resolution expressed the belief that western newspapers, particularly those on the Pacific coast, shows the least bias in handling war news.

PARTISANS TAKE DIFFERENT VIEWS OF BURSUM LAW

One Crowd Charges It Has Not Been Given Fair Trial and the Other Says It Has Had Too Much Chance.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL)
Santa Fe, Aug. 3.—A decrease of almost $2,000,000 in the assessment of Eddy county, following upon the reported decrease in the assessment of Chaves and San Juan counties, is being interpreted by bitter partisans as a deliberate attempt of democratic counties to make the Bursum tax law a failure, while equally bitter partisans on the other side point to the phenomenal increase in the assessment of Socorro county and increases in such counties as Santa Fe and Colfax counties as an artificial attempt to bolster that law. The total value returned by Eddy county for 1915 is $19,736,620, from which $250,000 must be deducted, leaving $19,486,620 as against $12,121,464 last year. The 49,587 acres of agricultural lands assessed at $1,569,262 and the improvements thereon at only $247,395; 370,861 acres of grazing lands at $675,238 and improvements thereon at $275,140; 12,340 city lots at $745,950, improvements at $1,000,000; 136 miles of telephone at $4,175; 14 miles of telegraph at $7,330; 75.84 miles of railroad at $1,612,400, the railroad assessment being 15 per cent of the whole. 9,862 horses $281,450; 980 mules $97,765; 16 jacks $1,840; 20 burros $2,190; 27,750 cattle $2,283,324 or 22 per cent of the whole; 17,000 sheep $201,523; 12,815 goats $16,285; 1,728 swine $11,780; 191 automobiles $72,170; bank stock $252,300; money, note and other evidence of indebtedness $33,705; merchandise $252,275.

Guadalupe county for the first time outstrips Eddy county and that by more than a million and a half dollars and an increase of more than half a million dollars over the 1914 assessment, the total being $12,547,223 from which exemptions amounting to $216,842 must be deducted. However, 167.43 miles of railroad are assessed at $7,295,290 or almost 60 per cent of the total. Automobiles number 41, valued at $12,622; bank stock $33,775; money, notes, etc. $5,400; merchandise $206,295; 362 swine $2,625; 1,030 goats $12,500; 97; 281 sheep $151,604; 22,177 cattle $2,667,141; 254 burros $2,600; 3 jacks $450; 417 mules $24,315; 5,787 horses $170,235; Pullman $60,375; express company $650; telephone $35,970; telegraph $27,000; city lots $118,424 and improvements thereon $137,575; 820,421 acres grazing lands $2,283,324; improvements thereon $163,192; 8,072 acres agricultural lands $125,855; improvements thereon $16,309.

GOMPERS CALLS FOR IMPARTIAL EASTLAND PROBE

Sees in Disaster Full Justification of Seamen's Law, So Much Objected to by Ship Owners.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Washington, Aug. 3.—In a letter addressed to President Wilson and made public tonight, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, urges that the federal investigation of the Eastland disaster at Chicago be conducted by "a commission of disinterested fair-minded citizens." "Since all our investigation agencies have proved woefully inadequate," the letter says, "would it not be a travesty on justice to permit an investigation of the Eastland disaster to be made by the inspection officials who are in some degree at least responsible for the disaster that has taken place?" In this connection also let me urge upon your attention how completely the Eastland disaster refutes all of the arguments that have been urged to bring about amendment or repeal of the seamen's act. If, as a nation, we have regard for the value and sacredness of human life, if we esteem human beings higher than property and material interests, we should insist that the seamen's act shall not only not be weakened, but shall be strengthened in order to provide greater safety and greater security for future water traffic or travel.

The letter states that the attention of the government had been drawn to serious charges against inspectors on the great lakes a year ago, by the Chicago Federation of Labor which also reported overhauling of excursion boats on the lakes.

There is a serious crisis which vitally renders ineffective regulations and legislation that is entrusted to inspectors," the letter adds, "a most serious influence has always operated for the elimination of all inspectors who perform their duty without regard for the favor of the shipping interests."

The delegates to the supreme council attended high mass this morning in a body at St. James' cathedral, which was too small to accommodate the throng that sought admission that filled the street outside. From the cathedral the delegates went to the convention where welcoming speeches were made. The crowd again this afternoon was moved and subsequent sessions will be closed all.
